Moore High School
Waco, Texas

The publication of this edition of THE LION represents many hours of work by the members of the yearbook staff. Using the theme, "Life in the Lion's Den," the staff has endeavored to portray in words and pictures the student life on the campus of Moore High School.

Now, THE LION - 1969 is yours to treasure.

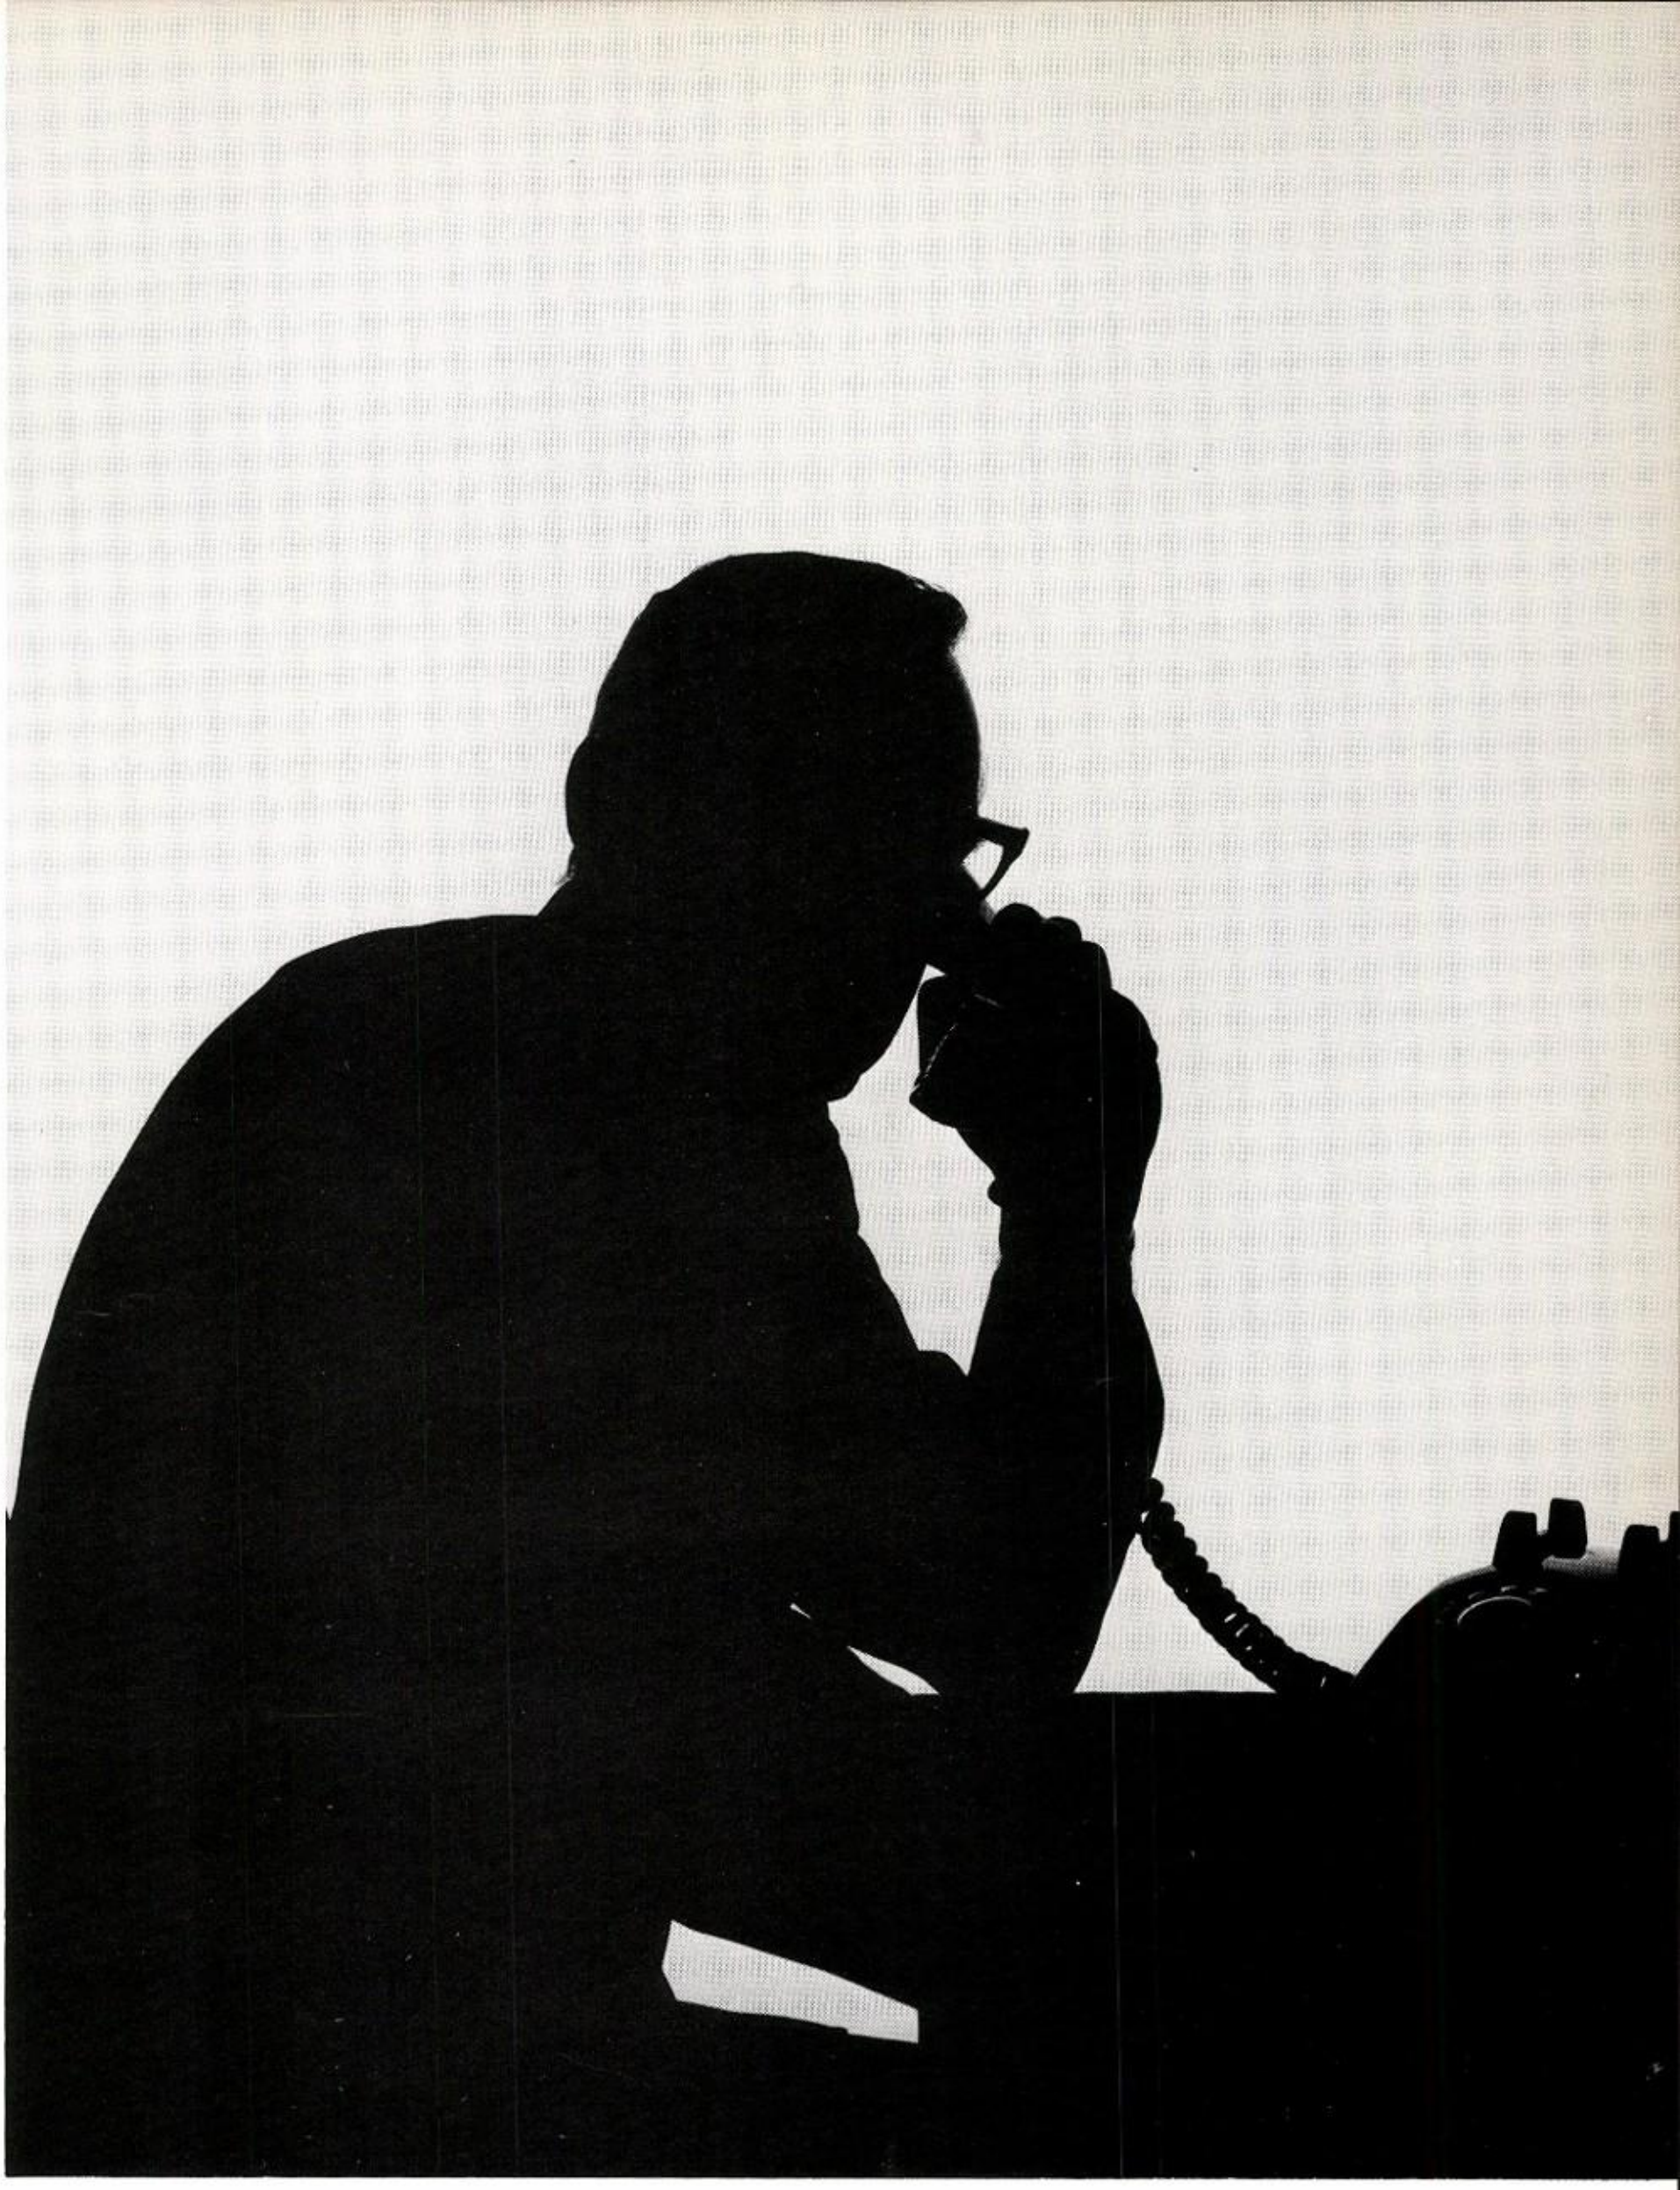
The Lion Salutes

MRS. F. V. WEBSTER

For any home to function properly there must be maternal love. Likewise, for any school home to perform adequately, there must be a counselor's understanding. Mrs. F. V. Webster has provided this type of atmosphere at Moore High School for the many years she has served as girls' counselor.

The students and faculty who have been associated with Mrs. Webster admire her for her high ideals, respect her for her wise judgment, and appreciate her for her sympathetic, generous spirit.

As an expression of gratitude for her more than 25 years of service to Moore High School, the senior class dedicates The Lion 1969 to Mrs. F. V. Webster.



ADMINISTRATION

Executives

Superintendent A. R. Downing reviews routine matters with Assistant Superintendent B. B. Thompson.

For eleven years, Superintendent Avery R. Downing has been charged with the responsibility of educational leadership for the schools in the Waco Independent School District. In accomplishing this task, he is assisted by Mr. Barry B. Thompson.

During an interview with the yearbook editor, Mr. Downing stated that his duties as superintendent include: (1) keeping the Board of Trustees informed concerning the progress of the school program, (2) interpreting the schools to the public and the public to the schools, (3) and being available for conference at all times.

In a special message to the seniors, he said, "The elementary and high school education you have received is only a fractional part of the educational experiences your generation will have as adults. Whether you like it or not, resist it or not, education will engulf you."

Board of Trustees

BOARD OF TRUSTEES of the Waco Independent School District - SEATED: Mrs. M. M. MacRae, Dr. Clifford S. Knape, Dr. Tom L. Husbands. STANDING: Mr. Emmett L. Yant, Mr. Lyndon L. Olson, president; Mr. Gordon Rountree, Mr. John B. Faulkner.

Mr. Lyndon L. Olson serves as current president.

Principal's Message

Principal J. J. WILSON

Moore High is the home of the Mighty Lions. This term is not one to be used boastfully or selfishly. The phrase simply indicates that through the years Moore High students, parents, and faculty have carved a niche in the Hall of Fame in the areas of literary, academic, musical and athletic achievement.

"Faithful and true-hearted
Let us boost for our Moore High;
We revere and defend her,
And her colors proudly fly ...

Honors she has taken
On the track and with the ball;
May she always rank the highest,
May the colors never fall.
There's no other that can match her
When the team is on the field;
Her boys the fleetest,
Her girls the sweetest,
So here's a cheer for her we ne'er will yield."

These stanzas express the deep feeling that loyal students, parents, and alumni feel for Moore High. Such dedication, loyalty, and love assure perpetuation of the legend of the Mighty Lions. Let us continue to bring honor and distinction to Moore High by our thoughts, our words, and our deeds.

Assistant Principal's Message

TO THE CLASS OF 1969

You are fortunate enough to have been challenged and strengthened by change. Your whole life will be one of change. Man looks to outer space and to the universe beyond in this, your graduation year.

Asst. Principal E. M. MADDOX

It is the hope of your school that you are prepared for the new world. Twelve years of education have been yours. If you have been an active participant in this experience, you are ready to be a participant in this age of space.

Our charge and our wish to you is that you think clearly, apply yourself with diligence, carry yourself with honor, approach your work with enthusiasm, and in so doing, receive joy and satisfaction.

The goal of all instruction in the Language Arts courses is to make the student more mature in his understanding and use of language. From the junior high level throughout the senior high classes, students examine the structure of the language, with emphasis on its past and present. They respond to the power of literature through a wide range of activities and through composition experiences.

The school library provides much needed material for students.

Fine Arts

An unprecedented number of students are participating in the Music Department with ever heightening enjoyment. These students realize a deep satisfaction as their ability increases to create or to express something beautiful, whether in music, painting, or any other art.

Fine Arts ministers to human welfare: It brings comfort to saddened spirits and offers a wonderful outlet for the expression of happiness and joy.

The Moore High music curriculum aims to arouse motives for living at one's best and contributes to a broad, sane philosophy of life. School music experiences provide the students with wholesome emotional outlet. Music experiences also: (1) develop a love for and an appreciation of good music; (2) develop technical facility and (3) develop the spirit of cooperative service.

Social Studies

The Human Relations Class has as its goal the fostering of a greater understanding of people all over the world. The class is taught by Reverend E. H. Hooker.

Lester McDowell is shown examining cards which he has run through the card sorter in the computer center of the American Life Insurance Co. in the Amicable Life Bldg. This is the first year Computer Science has been offered in Moore High School.

Science is so much a part of our lives, that it is a must that students understand the basic principles of science which will bring scientific literacy to citizens who may never enter the scientific profession.

The offerings are many and so diverse the needs and opportunities. There is a place for each, whether consumer or producer in science.

Through these sciences, man can control his welfare and destiny.

Moore High School

Moore High School is a community of young American citizens possessing one common goal - a secondary education. The experiences the more than 800 students gain while on its campus are typical of those at any other American high school.

Students enjoy warm friendships. They absorb in varying degrees the lessons taught. They accept responsibilities. They grow in understanding and maturity. Yet there is one trait Moore High School students possess which surpasses the average student group, and that is MOORE HIGH SCHOOL SPIRIT!

Jr. High FHA Aims for Higher Horizons

CREED

"We are the Junior
Future Homemakers of America
We face the future with warm courage
And high hope . . ."

The Jr. Future Homemakers of America sponsored many different activities for the Christmas season. The chapter presented a play entitled "Christmas Cowboy" for the P-TA Christmas party and for an assembly program. Members of the chapter also made dolls for the Laura Edwards Center. Mrs. V. D. Elliott is chapter sponsor. Paula Ritcherson, a sophomore, played the role of Santa Claus and entertained the audience with a creative dance, the "Santa Claus Rock."

FHA Works to Improve Family Relations

The overall goal of the Future Homemakers of America is to help individuals improve personal, family and community living, now and in the future. Mrs. V. E. Lane and Mrs. D. S. Jackson are sponsors.

Student Councils Govern Student Activities

Democracy in the Lion's Den stimulates representative government. The Lion's council leads in promoting such activities as Homecoming, March of Dimes, Toys for Tots, Christmas baskets and booster signs as pictured above. Six of the executive officers are F. Hackworth, president; L. Hicks, first vice-president; B. Lane, second vice-president; B. Hall, secretary; P. Leno, assistant secretary; and S. Harris, treasurer. Sponsors are Mesdames Brown, White, Pryor and Mr. C. O. Jones.

The Sounds of Music

The J. A. Kirk Chorus entertains the Lion's Club at one of its noon luncheons which was held at the Alico Inn.

The man that hath no music
in himself,

Nor is not mov'd with concord
of sweet sounds,

Is fit for treasons, strata-
gems, and spoils;

The motions of his spirit
are dull as night,

And his affections dark as Erbus.

Let no such man be trusted.

CONCERT

The junior class and Junior Parents Organization presented Miss Shirley Jean Vaughn in concert at Roxy Grove Hall, February 1, 1969. Miss Vaughn was well received by an appreciative audience. Her program included selections from the classics, operaticarias, and spirituals. Kenny Louis Arnold was her accompanist. Both are seniors at Prairie View A & M.

Phyllis Sauls presents flowers on behalf of the junior class. Mrs. O. E. White spearheaded the project. Lester McDowell was class assistant.

The members of the Eighth Grade Class have found in Moore High: "...a just admission of topics and of words; neither too many nor too few of either; enough of sweetness in the sound to induce us to enter and sit still; enough of illustration and reflection to change the posture of our minds when they would tire; and enough of sound matter in the complex to repay us for our attendance."

This year we find five students in the seventh grade who chose to attend A. J. Moore High School from other cities. They are Christopher Haynes, Midland; Elroy Hopwood, Marlin; Robert Toliver, Hawaii; Brenda Watson Downsville; and Marilyn White, Austin. The class is very cooperative, well disciplined, courteous, and studious.

Debra Harris, a member of the class expresses her thoughts about the Seventh Grade as --- "Happiness is Seventh Grade when you meet new people. You get to know their names, where they live, their likes and dislikes, and their favorite colors.

Happiness is Seventh Grade when you are lucky and get nice teachers who can help and understand you, and are nice to you. Teachers who know what it is like the first year in a new school.

Happiness is Seventh Grade when you don't have to be worried constantly by six and seven year olds who want to know your name.

Happiness is Seventh Grade when you go to a school where there is a principal and other teachers to help with your problems.

HAPPINESS IS SEVENTH GRADE."
